

A theory to save the world: America begins again

It shall begin in America. Land of the free and home of the brave. It is this freedom which allows me a voice. It is our bravery which this plan is dependent upon.

We are a melting pot and as such we represent people from all nations and all faiths. It is among our founding principles to protect the voices and faiths of our peoples. The world's history has been full of great suffering and thus America, a nation of many peoples, has inherited all the suffering of all the people of all the world.

By learning our lessons of the past, we give meaning to all the suffering and sacrifices of all people throughout all of human history.

Let us restore hope to the world!

Let us begin again.

Let all the world bear witness to ALL HUMANITY COULD BE.

It is not just answering for all the suffering, it is our destiny.

For our entire culture is filled with films, comics, literature, and folklore which consistently demonstrate a theme of SAVING THE DAY or SAVING THE WORLD.

This is true of our ancestors the world over. Our earliest cave paintings depict human success and victory. Even biologically we have the instinct to protect each other, to protect our kin, to protect OUR PEOPLE.

Millions of hours of human life has been spent consuming content with the themes of saving the day or saving the world. Many of our television shows revolve around this very theme and have MILLIONS of viewers each week. Our video games are filled with the same themes. Our heroes of legend, our superheroes, our fantasy realms, our entertainment culture is saturated with these themes.

Our entertainment has primed America for this moment.

So we shall act as a rallying point to all of humanity.

Stand together America and let us lead the world into the future!